

MARSHAL FOCH
PRAISES WORK
OF AMERICANS

Deserts Rhine Must be Barrier Between Germany and France

TRAVES, Wednesday, Jan. 15. (By The Associated Press.)—It is the conviction of Marshal Foch at the Rhine must be made the barrier between Germany and France. He expressed this clearly day when he received American newspaper correspondents. The marshal is here in connection with a meeting concerning the extension of the German armistice. Marshal Foch pointed out the difficulties that had been overcome and said that peace must be maintained with the price of victory. Germany was now defeated.

It was now the duty of the allies to prevent further aggressions. Marshal Foch praised the work of the American troops and said that General Pershing had asked the American forces be concentrated for an attack on one sector. The allied generalissimo admitted that the Argonne-Meuse front, where the Americans began their offensive on Sept. 26, was a sector hard to tackle. The marshal said he had told General Pershing: "You men have the devil's own work. They will get away with all that. Go to it."

"The American attack succeeded," the marshal continued, "and we are on the Rhine." The armistice was concluded too soon and the allies got all they asked for from Germany without continuing the fighting. The allies, the marshal said, were prepared for another offensive stroke which would have forced the Germans to give up. This was to have been in Lorraine on Nov. 14 with six American and twenty French divisions.

French American Fighters. "This is for me," Marshal Foch began, "a happy opportunity to tell you all the good things I think of the American army and the part it played on our side. Our soldiers are superb. They came to us young, enthusiastic and carried forward by a vigorous idealism and they marched to battle with admirable gallantry."

"Yes, they were superb. There is no other word. When they shared our armies were, as you know, fatigued by three years of relentless struggle and the mantle of war laid heavily upon them. We were magnificently comforted by the virility of your Americans."

"The youth of the United States brought a renewal of the hope that hastened victory. Not only was this moral fact of the highest importance but you also brought enormous material aid and the wealth which you placed at our disposal contributed to the final success."

"Nobility among us will ever forget what America did. And you know what happened on the field of battle since the month of July—first on the Marne, then in the region of Verdun. General Pershing wished as far as possible to have his army concentrated in an American sector. The Argonne and the heights of the Meuse were a sector hard to tackle. There were considerable obstacles there."

"All right," I said to him. "Your men have the devil's own work. They will get away with all that. Go to it."

"And finally everything went well; everything went so well that here we are on the Rhine."

Marshal Foch was asked by the correspondent: "But was not the armistice concluded too soon?"

"It was not possible to do otherwise," answered the marshal, "because the Germans gave us everything that we asked for at once. They satisfied all of our conditions. It was difficult to ask more."

"Doubtless any general would have preferred to have continued the struggle and to have battled when the battle which offered itself was so promising but a father of a family could not help but think of blood that would be shed. A victory however, easy costs the lives of men. We held victory within our grasp without any further sacrifice. We took it as it came. The German high command was not ignorant of the fact that it faced a colossal disaster. When it surrendered, everything was prepared for an offensive in which it would infallibly have succumbed. On the fourteenth we were to attack in Lorraine with twenty French divisions and six American divisions. This attack would have been supported by other movements in Flanders and in the center."

Must Plan for Future. "The Germans were lost. They capitulated. There is the whole story. And now we must make a peace which will correspond with the magnitude of our victory. We must have a peace as absolute as our success and which will guard us against all future aggressions."

"France has a right to effective measures of protection after the formidable efforts she put forth to save civilization. The natural frontier which will protect civil-

Declares Profits Grew Despite War Regulation

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Food administration regulations neither regulated profits of meat packers nor benefited public or the consumers, St. Chase, an expert accountant employed by the federal trade commission, told the senate agriculture committee today in preliminary figures to show that profits of the five big packing concerns doubled and trebled during war.

Mr. Chase who was testifying at hearings in the Kendall providing for government vision of the meat industry, no one knows accurately the packers' earnings are by their methods of bookkeeping the effect of covering their profits. He declared, however, that examinations by committee of the books of Armour & Co., Morris & Co., C. & Co., Wilson & Co., and a dairy company, showed their aggregate profits in 1912 were $715,000, and in 1917, $95,000.

Based on capital stock, Chase said Morris & Co. had in 1917 were 267.7 per cent. higher than the same basis. Armour's profits in 1917 were 158 per cent. higher than the same basis. Because of a later He is increase in capital stock the percentage for Armour & Co. dropped to 27.1 in 1917. Swift & Co. profits in 1917 on the same basis were 63 per cent. while those of the Cudahy company in 1917 were 23.2 per cent. based on capital stock and surplus. Wilson Co.'s earnings for the same year were 29.6 per cent. on the combined capital and surplus.

The hearings will be resumed tomorrow with Francis J. Heney of San Francisco, again on the stand.

GERMANS SHOW
HOSTILE SPIRIT

WARSAW, Tuesday, Jan. 15.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Germans have refused to receive at Bialystok, Lieutenant Reginald Foster, a political agent of the American peace commission and Col. Wade of the British army who went to Lapy on the Polish frontier to confer with the commander of the German tenth army. It was their object to persuade the Germans to hold the frontier against the Bolsheviks. Lieutenant Foster and Colonel Wade received the reply that if they attempted to pass over the frontier they would be regarded as enemies by the German sentinels. Foster and Wade have reported the action of the Germans to their respective governments.

ENTIRE PROGRAM
NOT CARRIED OUT

HONOR FRANKLIN

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—Christ church burying ground in the heart of the wholesale district of Philadelphia was today the scene for thousands of persons gathered to honor the memory of Benjamin Franklin on the 213th anniversary of his birth. Because of his famous sayings on thrift and economy the federal government has placed his likeness on the 1919 issue of war stamps and designated the anniversary of his birth as "Thrift Day."

The Rhine is the Rhine.

"It is on the Rhine that we must hold the Germans. It is by using the Rhine that we must make it impossible for them to recommence the coup of 1914. The Rhine is the common barrier for all the allies, precisely of all those who united to shave civilization. The Rhine is the guarantee of peace for all the nations who have shed their blood in the war of liberty. Ten let us watch on the Rhine."

"We have no idea of attacking Germany or of recommending the war. Democrats such as ours never attack. They ask but to live in peace and to grow in peace. But who can say that Germany where Democratic ideas are so recent and perhaps very superficial—will not quickly recover from its defeat."

"England has the channel to cross, America is far away. France must always be in a position to safeguard the general interests of mankind. Those interests are at stake on the Rhine. It is there that we must prepare to guard against the painful surprises of the future."

"The armistice is signed, but peace is not yet concluded. So long as the status of Europe has not been settled let us watch, let us watch together so that we lose not the fruits of our common victory. Let us remain united as we were in battle."

Expect Decrease
In The Price Of Coal And Coke

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Fuel administration officers expect a decrease in the price of bituminous coal and coke to result from a ruling of Postmaster General Burleson, was entered by the Illinois Public Utilities Commission today. The order affects the Chicago Telephone company; American Telephone and Telegraph company; Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company; and the Kinloch Long Distance Telephone company of Missouri.

The companies filed proposed schedules of rates and certain methods for computing toll and long distance telephone rates on their lines, with the Utilities Commission, in accordance with Postmaster Burleson's order.

The commission declared the setting toll and long distance telephone rates, that such proposed rates, applying to messages between any two points in the state are difficult if not impossible to exact determination, that the forms in which such rates covered by the application are indicated, do not conform with the Illinois statute.

It appears the commission contends, that they contemplate substantial increases in rates within the state, and in other measures are at variance with its present schedule on file with the commission. The commission believes it should hold a hearing concerning the propriety of placing in effect the proposed rates.

PEACE CONGRESS
OPENS IN PARIS
THIS AFTERNOON

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Jan. 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—The scene is set for the opening of the peace congress at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with the impressive ceremony befitting such an eventful occasion. The final details were concluded tonight at a meeting of the supreme council which completed its labors and adjourned for the inauguration of the larger body tomorrow.

The secretariat of the congress during the evening completed the official list of the delegates. It included a distinguished array of leading public figures from every section of the civilized globe and in personnel and in the interests represented it embraces probably one of the most notable gatherings of statesmen the world ever has seen. The final preparations were concluded today in the beautiful Hall de la Paix at the foreign office where the congress will meet and the green table now awaits its guests.

The opening tomorrow of the conference table, Raymond Poincaré, president of France, will make his entry into the hall with an escort of premiers and take his place in the presiding officer's chair at the head of the table.

The opening address of M. Poincaré in welcoming the commissioners to Paris will sound the glories of the war just won and tell of the momentous work of reconstruction entrusted to the congress.

Wars Against False Reports. Paris, Jan. 17.—Premier Clemenceau in the chamber of deputies today gave a warning against false reports concerning the peace conference, citing as an instance a cablegram addressed to the New York Tribune.

"I saw yesterday a telegram addressed to the New York Tribune," he said, "in which it was said that President Wilson had threatened to withdraw all his troops and himself retire if certain stipulations of his were not granted. When I showed this telegram to Mr. Wilson this morning he replied to me: 'What an abominable falsehood.'"

The Tribune's Statement. New York, Jan. 17.—The following statement was issued by the New York Tribune tonight: "At 11:30 a. m., Friday Jan. 17, the New York Tribune issued a statement denying that it had ever printed in its columns a statement remotely resembling that which was referred to by Premier Clemenceau in the chamber of deputies. At 2:30 p. m., there was received in the Tribune office what appears to be the message in question."

"Owing to the fact that it has been made the basis of controversy the Tribune prints it just as the correspondent sent it without exercising editorial judgment of the text."

The message follows. "Paris, Jan. 17.—Among the many sensational rumors habitually afloat in the chamber of deputies there has been one to the effect that President Wilson has threatened to withdraw American troops from Europe if certain of his ideas are not followed by the peace conference. How far these things have gone in the three conferences already held it is impossible for me to say, but that the chamber's report is pretty nearly correct there is no doubt."

"The numerous indications of this recent attitude on Wilson's part and that he is now tacitly but definitely, if not actually, threatening other commissioners. He has come here to make a certain kind of peace and intends to do so, his supporters say. And his supporters have frankly said that he will refuse to sign any peace not in accord with what he considers a fair and equitable interpretation of the armistice agreement which accepted the fourteen points, with reservations as to the freedom of the seas."

"Now his supporters said, some of the allies are unwilling to abide by the armistice terms and will seek at each renewal to go beyond the armistice terms and impose further penalties on the Germans who accepted the armistice in good faith."

"Mr. Wilson's supporters feel furthermore that some of the allies—desire to prolong the armistice in order to realize Germany to the utmost before concluding a peace with her."

"There is nothing on the face of the message to show when it was filed by the Tribune correspondent in Paris, but there is evidence to show that it was not

Two Spartacan
Leaders Meet
Death in Berlin

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, Jan. 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—Dr. Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg have been killed.

When it became known yesterday that Dr. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg were at the Hotel Eden, in the western part of the city, a crowd rapidly congregated and stormed the hotel lobby to lay hands on them. Both were spirited to a side entrance to the hotel, but the mob forestalled the attempt of the troops to save Fraulein Luxemburg. She was beaten into insensibility and then thrown into an automobile by the crowd which intended to take her to prison.

A few blocks down the street the machine was halted by a second mob and when the presence of Fraulein Luxemburg became known, a man jumped on the running board of the car and shot her thru the head. The body was dragged from the automobile and carried off. It is supposed that it was thrown into the canal, but it has not been found.

In the meantime Dr. Liebknecht was hurried into another automobile by officers and troops and the car was headed for the Moabit prison. While going through the Tiergarten, the machine was halted by a punctured tire. Dr. Liebknecht was asked to get out by the officers who intended to take another automobile and continue toward the prison. While waiting Dr. Liebknecht made an attempt to escape and was shot dead by soldiers who had anticipated such an effort on his part. When he was arrested yesterday, he denied his identity.

CHILD LABOR DAY.

Child Labor Day will be observed throughout the United States, January 25, in synagogues; January 26, in the churches; and January 27, in the schools, according to a bulletin of the National Child Labor Committee. The Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor is arranging to have reports from its field workers available for programs in churches, schools, clubs and other organizations. In this connection the Children's Bureau has issued a bulletin announcing a Back-to-School Drive, the object of which is to return to the schools and keep there the children who have deserted the schools for industry during the war. The actual work of the drive, it is said, will be done through the Child Conservation Section of the Council of National Defense. Committees are now being formed whose duty it will be first to study child labor and school attendance laws, and then get accurate lists of the children who have not returned to school.

Secretary of Commerce Redfield's recent recommendations that the United States lie low and permit the nations of Europe to have first chance at the world export trade in order that they may rehabilitate themselves, seems to be bearing fruit according to protests which are being made by the American Exporters and Importers' association. This association declares that "governmental red tape and official incompetency are robbing American manufacturers, shippers and our much-talked-of mercantile marine of the opportunity of a lifetime." Promises made to exporters a month or so ago by the Washington authorities are not being kept, they declare; and "passing the buck" has become so popular in official circles that no relief whatever has been afforded.

THE RED CROSS CAMPAIGN.

As already announced, the Red Cross membership campaign is soon to begin in this county. During the week beginning Jan. 27 it is the hope of Dr. Kopperl and the other members of the directing organization to re-enroll thousands of Morgan county people for Red Cross work. In all its years the Red Cross society has done a great humanitarian work practically without criticism. Through the endowment plan its operating expenses are paid, so that those who support it thru membership or by contributions have the satisfaction of knowing that all their money goes for the work intended.

In other counties the Red Cross society membership now is greater than when the war was in progress and that should be the case here. Even the war work is not ended, for the Red Cross still has vast obligations to meet overseas. Then there is the domestic work which will always be in progress in meeting special emergencies. The Red Cross Work should and will go on. It should and will have the hearty support of Morgan county people.

GOING AFTER BUSINESS.

It is said that a national organization known as the Exalted Society of Order Hounds has been founded in Chicago. Its members are salesmen from all branches of commerce and industry and their purpose is to "go after business." The officers are Senior Watch Dog, Junior Watch Dog and Big Barker. This organization and subsidiary ones of like purpose to be organized, has a big task confronting it if "made in America" goods are to be pushed in the markets of the world. There is no denying the quality and quantity of the goods the U. S. offers, but there must be some special attention to this whole matter of commerce by the Washington government if the U. S. business interests are to have an equal chance for foreign trade.

AUTO LICENSES.

The interesting record made public by Secretary of State Emerson shows that automobile owners of the state thru licenses contributed last year to the good roads fund $2,762,567. This sum is considerably more than a million dollars greater than the license fund of the previous year. War conditions evidently did not affect the automobile business in Illinois. The way that applications for licenses have already been filed this year indicates that in 1919 more than $3,000,000 will go into the road fund from this source.

Morgan county's contribution to the license fee the past year was $17,024.

WHAT UNITED EFFORT BRINGS.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis society held Friday night made a representative gathering. One could not look upon the group without remembering that the interest in anti-tuberculosis work has largely been created within the last eight years. Because of the fervent enthusiasm of a few at that time, the larger things have been made possible at the present time. Today there is a united sentiment in favor of anti-tuberculosis work and it is a credit to Morgan county that it was one of the first in the state to approve the special tax system which makes a sanatorium for combating the disease an actuality.

WOULD FOSTER BUILDING.

Aid to home-builders on a national scale, and in a manner similar to that by which the Federal Farm Loan Banks aid agriculture, has been suggested to the Division of Public Works and Construction Development of the department of labor by President Keeler of the United States League of Building and Loan associations, in order to interest the public in building during the transition period from war to peace.

Building loan associations of this country, according to this plan, would perform for working-men much the same service as that performed for farmers by farm loan banks. Mortgages made over to building and loan associations, it is suggested, should be rediscountable at Federal Reserve Banks in order that these associations might render most effective service. At present, however, two difficulties stand in the way; first, the associations are not members of the Federal Reserve Bank system, and have no capital stock and reserve therein; second, the reserve banks are designed for handling commercial paper, not mortgages.

The solution of the first problem suggested is that special measures be taken to protect the reserve banks, and that the second be met by limiting the amount of mortgages rediscounted. As an alternative, it is thought that the farm loan banks might be authorized to accept mortgages on homes as well as on farm lands. Either method, it is thought, would be preferable to the creation of new organizations.

The building and loan associations for the country number 7,269, with a total membership of 3,838,612. Their total assets exceed $1,750,000,000. Their receipts from all sources in 1917 were $1,220,000,000, and their cost of doing business, $9,800,000 amounted to only 0.8 of 1 per cent.

NO WAR GARDEN.

No man can say, this year, I wot, I'm bound to have a garden plot. No man can stop me on the street, and call me traitor and rebel, because I do not raise some peas, some cabbageheads, and thing like these. Our precious boons are back again, and we are free, unfettered men, and we can raise string beans, by jing, or we can do the other thing, I'll buy my green goods at the store. And when the vernal zephyrs blow, I will not ply a rusty hoe, or scratch the planet with a rake, or dig until my vitals ache. And on the long, long summer days, beneath umbrageous boughs and leaves, I'll sit and read the baseball score, and weed the turnips nevermore. The worst of war is this, methinks: There are too many busy ginks who call you slacker if you slight the things that they insist are right. They're keeping tab the hour you raise; they watch all day with jealous eyes; and if you fail to raise some spuds, or if you wear some new-laid duds or if you don't invest your mon the way those ginks themselves have done, scorn's finger at your door they point, and cry "Avant!" and eke "Aroint!" Now we've regained our liberties, and we can do as we please, and no cheap skate with visasour can call us slackers by the hour.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
ADOPTS WAR ORPHAN

Boys and Girls Enter Enthusiastically Into Project at Mass Meeting Friday—Is First of City's Schools to Adopt Unfortunate French Child.

The boys and girls of the junior high school yesterday entered with great enthusiasm into the movement for the support of French war orphans. At a mass meeting held at the noon hour, Mrs. R. H. Lacey in a ten minute talk, presented the cause. The children already knew something about this good movement from the facts that Mrs. Lacey told them added so much to their enthusiasm that they quickly voted to adopt one of the little French children whom the war has robbed of parents. The fund was started immediately because the boys and girls would have that way. They searched pockets for pennies or nickels and then on the study hall desk. Day the children are expected to come back with other contributions for the cause or the amount of what they expect to give for the less fortunate children in France.

The junior high school has the honor of being the first of the Jacksonville schools to adopt one of the French war orphans and no doubt the good example thus set will be followed generally and generously. In this connection it is proposed to speak of the Junior Red Cross organization, which includes in its membership all of the 250 pupils of the junior high school. They have paid in their last year dues for the Red Cross work amounting to $625.00, and in addition have raised $20 which is stored in the treasury and can now become a part of the war orphan fund.

The story of how this $20 was raised is worthy of note. Pupils in the English classes of Miss Ethel Wylder heard with a great deal of interest a story of what some children in a slum district of New York did for the war cause thru self-denial. The story gave the Jacksonville boys and girls an inspiration and before the story was finished they had asked eagerly why they couldn't do something of the same kind. As a result by the practice of little personal self-denials these boys and girls in a few weeks' time raised a fund of $16, which was later increased by $4 which the pupils earned by the selling of tickets for an entertainment.

At the time it was thought that the money might be used for establishing a fund for the French war orphans, but now the money is to go for the French war orphan fund, which in view of the closing of the war seems the more pressing need.

Those who heard Mrs. Lacey's address to the children yesterday declared that it gave proof of her own fine enthusiasm and interest in the work and also gave to her auditors a vivid picture of the needs which the war orphan fund is now seeking to meet in a sympathetic American way.

AN OLD TIME REPORT CARD
A gentleman yesterday remarked to a Journal reporter that he was looking over some old papers and relics and came across a report card signed by his teacher, Miss Sue Cherry away back about 1865 or 6. At that time the lady was a teacher in the building which stood where the recent high school building was erected. Michael Sanderson was the principal and he was a perfect gentleman but consumption claimed him as a victim not long after. There followed three principals—the city, Black Higgins and Prince. The Washington school building was not then erected. Old timers will well remember the names given the various wards, first ward, "Hard Scrabble;" second ward, "Swell Head;" third ward "Pick Up" and fourth ward "Big Bug," and often when persons would say, "Jefferson, Lafayette and the like the one addressed would have to stop a moment to recall which one was meant.

HOME FROM THE GREAT LAKES

W. R. Herman of Arenzville was in the city yesterday having been released from duty at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. The young man says there were about 65,000 of his class there and the government is releasing from immediate duty those who have special cause for being let out, that is, men with dependent relatives and the like. They are released subject to further orders however as it seems to be the policy of the government to hold in the service a large force of men. There are some 45,000 men there now and their numbers will not be greatly reduced in a hurry. Mr. Herman is looking fine and surely the life at the station must have agreed with him.

OPENING BASKETBALL GAME THIS EVENING

Illinois College Will Have McKendree for Opponent—Seconds Will Play Business College in Curtain Raiser.

Illinois College will open the 1919 basketball season in David Prince gym this evening when she will have McKendree for an opponent. The second team and Brown's Business college will play a curtain raiser.

Coach Harmon has been working his men hard the past few weeks and they are in fair shape though the team work is not what it should be. There are several veterans on the squad, however, and they should keep the game moving.

The coach announces that the following men probably will be used in the game: Tomlinson and Underwood, center; Cully, Whisler, Andrews and Best, forwards; Mutch, Lenington and Peters, guards.

Not much is known of the strength of McKendree but nearly all colleges develop good basketball teams in these days and fans may look forward to a fast and hard fought contest. Capt. Conn of the University of Wisconsin will officiate.

AUBURN HIGH WON FROM JACKSONVILLE

Defeated Locals on David Prince Floor by Score of 11 to 6—Inability to Shoot Baskets Lost Game.

Auburn high defeated Jacksonville high at basketball on the David Prince floor Friday evening by a score of 11 to 6.

The game was a rough one throughout and a number of personal fouls were called. Both teams played a good defensive game but neither showed much ability in offense.

At the close of the first half the score was a tie at 6 to 6. In the second half Auburn tossed three foul goals and Harris got a long shot from the middle of the floor which gave a total of 11 for the visitors.

Both teams fought hard in the second half and Jacksonville had several opportunities at free throws and some good chances at field baskets. However, the men did not seem to have an eye for the basket and were unable to get over a counter.

For the home five Rexroat and Correa were the point makers, while Correa, Smith and Ransdell did good work on the defense.

Harris and Martin scored Auburn's points while the two M. Elvains started on the defense. The score:

DEATH COMES TO PROMINENT MAN

F. Kemys-Tynpe Had Large Property and Business Holdings in Wisconsin City—Husband of Jacksonville Young Woman.

A telegram received yesterday by Miss Georgia Montgomery announced the death of her brother-in-law, Mr. F. Kemys-Tynpe, at Lake Mills, Wis. The deceased who was sixty two years of age, passed away Friday after a somewhat extended illness. Mrs. Isalah Strawn, another sister went to Lake Mills several days ago on receipt of the information of her brother-in-law's critical illness.

Mr. Kemys-Tynpe who was born in England, came to America about thirty years ago. He was in Chicago for a brief period and subsequently located at Lake Mills. He was one of the most wealthy residents of that city and actively identified with large business interests there. He was the owner of the mills located in that city, president of a large insurance company and one of the principal banks of Lake Mills.

For years he had been very prominently identified with the philanthropic work of his home city and was a large contributor to war organizations. Because of his English connections Mr. Kemys-Tynpe was greatly interested in the cause of the Allies before America entered the conflict and had liberally supported English war movements. After the country of his adoption became actively interested he did his full financial part but he continued his support of the war organizations overseas.

The deceased is survived by his wife, who before her marriage to him was Mrs. Benjamin Staunton and her maiden name was Antoinette Montgomery. He leaves also three sisters living in England and one sister a resident of British Columbia, where her husband for a number of years filled the office of governor. For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Staunton were residents of Lake Mills and during the lifetime of Mr. Staunton he was an intimate friend of Mr. Kemys-Tynpe.

The funeral service will be held at Lake Mills.

Martha Washington candy. Douglas.

LIGNITE FROM NORTH DAKOTA

Mrs. Emma Gibbs, 123 City Place, who has just returned from a visit to her brother, Enoch Mower in Tower, N. D., brought with her a small box of lignite, the commercial coal of that district. This article is somewhat of a curiosity in this section and can be seen in the Journal office window. At first glance these lumps appear to be no more than charred wood, the result of forest fires, but in reality are what we know as coal in its "unfinished state," possibly several thousand years longer in the earth being produced the "black diamonds" that we are accustomed to. Mrs. Gibbs states that this lignite brings from five to six dollars per ton, that it is a perfect heat and steam producer and burns up absolutely clean.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

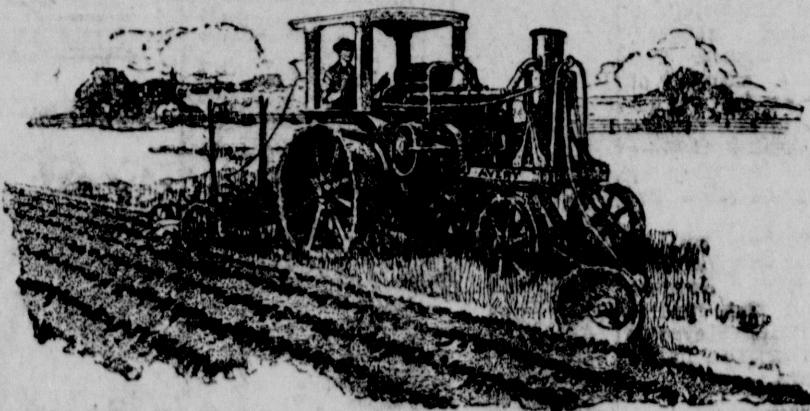

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and colonel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull tired feeling—a sick headache—a torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Why Avery Tractors Make Good

There are thousands of Avery Tractors in the hands of farmers throughout the entire United States and in over 61 foreign countries. The fact that these thousands of Avery Tractors are doing their work successfully all over the world is proof that the design and construction of the Avery Tractor is correct.

Avery Tractors Have More Exclusive Features Than Any Other Tractors Built

They have patented sliding frames which makes possible the simplest belt and drawbar transmission system built. They have perfected opposed motors with inner cylinder walls that are renewable; practically unbreakable crankshaft; adjustable crankshaft bearings; and gasifiers that turn kerosene or distillate into gas. Avery Tractors also have round radiators with no pumps, fans, belts, chains or other troublesome parts which are easily broken.

These are some of the reasons why Avery Tractors have made good. And behind Avery Tractors are three big Avery factories and many branches, which insure service at all times. These are all described and illustrated in the Avery catalog. Come in and get one—it's free.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS
SOCIETY HELD SESSION

ANNUAL REPORTS PRESENT-ED AT DINNER FRIDAY NIGHT

Officers of Organization Reviewed
Work Which Has Been Done
During Past Year—Dr. Josephine Milligan Lately Returned from France Made Principal Address.

For the annual meeting of the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis society held at the Dunlap House Friday night, a company of more than 100 men and women gathered. At this session reports for the year were made by officers and a number of addresses were made, including that by Dr. Josephine Milligan, lately returned from Europe. The dinner service was excellent and members of the society expressed their appreciation to the hotel management and also to the Hoffmann Floral Co. for the floral decorations.

Dr. Grace Dewey, who is vice president of the Anti-Tuberculosis society, presided in the absence of Mrs. A. L. Adams, the president. Grace was said by Rev. J. F. Langton, rector of Trinity church, and for the formal program Dr. Dewey first presented the secretary of the association, Ralph I. Dunlap, who gave a brief but succinct report of the society's activities during the past year. Mrs. Herbert J. Capps is the treasurer and gave the financial facts to indicate that the society is well managed in a business way and has the support of the public. William Batz, who is president of the board of trustees managing the county tuberculosis sanatorium, presented a report which is given in full in another column.

Open Air School
The next speaker presented was H. A. Perrin, superintendent of Jacksonville schools. Mr. Perrin laid emphasis upon the excellence of the work done at the Josephine Milligan school, which he said was maintained because of the hearty co-operation of the Anti-Tuberculosis association, the board of education and the women's clubs and the public. He said that the records would show clearly the benefits of this school to its pupils. They are better from a physical standpoint and their records in an educational way show the benefits. At an earlier time there was occasionally a reluctance on the part of children to attend this school, but now that has passed away and the children are eager to secure the benefits which come to them in this way.

The Clinic

Dr. C. E. Cole, medical director of the tuberculosis clinic, made a brief report. Dr. Cole has thru all the years maintained his interest in anti-tuberculosis work in which he is engaged, not only in the county but in the district. He said that altho the year had been such a busy one for physicians and nurses, that the clinic had been kept up with its regular weekly sessions. Some advance has been made in standardizing the records, so that clinic workers here could do similar tasks in other localities if they desired.

A United Effort.

E. E. Crabtree, district vice president for the Red Cross organization, explained the agreement made by the Anti-Tuberculosis society and the Red Cross organization. It is because of this agreement that a joint campaign of a nationwide character was made in December. The Red Cross agreed to give two and one-half million dollars of the fund raised to the anti-tuberculosis work. Mr. Crabtree explained why the campaign here had been delayed and asked for Dr. G. H. Kopperl, campaign manager, hearty support during the week to begin Jan. 27.

Dr. Dewey in a brief way then presented Dr. Josephine Milligan whose earlier interest in anti-tuberculosis work is responsible for much of the advance made here. All in the company stood for a moment as a mark of honor to Dr. Milligan, so recently returned from overseas service. Only a few lines are given from the very interesting address. Dr. Milligan said:

Condition in France.
"When I heard that the open air school here had been named the Josephine Milligan school I was greatly embarrassed, and tonight I am even more embarrassed, by this company, for I am afraid that you do not realize that I was not at the war front engaged in work for soldiers, but in anti-tuberculosis work just of the kind you are doing here. Some anti-tuberculosis work had been done in France before the war but not as much as in England, Germany or Italy. We can't teach the French anything about the sciences but it is difficult to get them to give up the unhygienic ways in which they have lived thru all the past years. One reason for the difficulties in getting desired results was that there has been no extensive system of spreading the propaganda."

"When the war broke out in 1914 all the men were called to the colors and there was no time for physical examination. The end of the first year the people were appalled to have 80,000 soldiers return to civil life unfit for army service because of tubercular conditions. It was then that there came the demand for more vigorous anti-tuberculosis work. An American woman started the movement which resulted in the opening of several hospitals for the treatment of these returned soldiers, and in 1917 the Red Cross took over the work. A little later the Rockefeller foundation also began work and these two organizations are now working jointly."

Purpose of the Work
"The purpose of our work was, first to give the immediate relief needed; secondly, to aid in the care of men; third, to establish two hospitals and fourth, to establish dispensaries. It has been found desirable to confine the intensive work to certain restricted territories. This was done in one ward in the city of Paris, where there were four dispensaries established. Because the nurses there are not trained in this work, a school was opened."

"My own work was in the Chateaudun, a territory with a population of about 60,000 people. For the tuberculosis work there now there are two physicians and three nurses and the general plan of endeavor is the same with which you are familiar here in this country."

Dr. Milligan then told of some of the difficulties in having the people understand that fresh air is good for them and that "they would not die" if they slept out in the open air. Postcards and pamphlets were distributed about the table to show something of the kind of publicity work that was necessary to enlist the interest of both the children and grownups. An amusing illustration was given of conditions when the speaker told of one handsome home where a donkey, rabbits and other domestic animals were housed under the same roof with the owner, and the "donkey" had the best ventilated apartment in the house.

Dr. Milligan gave some interesting facts about work among the refugees and touched upon the unquenchable spirit that those French people had whose homes were twice devastated. She told too, in a graphic way of what the war had meant in the devastation of farm lands and emphasis again on the greediness and selfishness of the Hun. Dr. Milligan said the spreading of anti-tuberculosis propaganda by American influence came at the psychological moment, for in 1918 anything that Americans suggested or fostered found favor in France. The speaker expressed the belief that the work begun is to be continued now that the war is over and with greater forcefulness.

REPORT OF COUNTY
TUBERCULOSIS FUND.

(By William Batz.)

First of all in behalf of the board of directors I wish to convey sincere thanks to the worthy president and members of the clinic society for their hearty co-operation and assistance granted us up to this time, to further the noble work that has been entrusted to our care. I hope the same cordial relationship will exist and be bestowed to us in the future.

I cannot realize that a year has passed since our last annual meeting, and O what a beautiful picture was drawn at that time of the future Melrose Abby. I am afraid it only proved to be an air-castle, but tonight I can assure you that our former dreams are becoming more realistic, and that within four and not to exceed five months we will have the pleasure of extending a hearty invitation to the public, but more so to the afflicted of ours and neighboring counties to the grand opening of one of the newest up-to-date and best equipped sanatoriums of its kind in the state.

Previous to our financial report, which we think the public has a right and is entitled to know, what money has been received and in what way has been disposed of. I wish to present a general review since our appointment. We were appointed in July 1917, organized and had our first meeting Aug. 8, 1917, the first thing in order was to select the term of years each member had to serve. Mr. W. R. Turnbull of Waverly drew the one year; Dr. Grace Dewey the two year and myself the three year term. I was honored with the chairmanship. Dr. Dewey and Mr. Turnbull Treasurer.

I wish to state that the efficiency and interest Mr. Turnbull devoted during his first term of office, was highly appreciated by our county board, and they again honored the gentlemen by reappointing him for a new term of three years, it surely was fratifying and also appreciated by the old members.

At our first meeting the question predominated how much of a tax levy should be asked for. We decided on a two mill levy, which was presented to our county board, the gentlemen granted our request and acted accordingly. Not having any money at our disposal to carry on the clinic and other work in connection, or to purchase property, the first item was taken care of by anticipation, and the property under a contract until in May of 1918 after the collection of taxes, we then received a title. We at once got busy to consider plans for the reconstruction of Oak Lawn and after considerable deliberation the firm of Puckey & Jenkins architects from Chicago, Ill., were selected to furnish the plans, also act as general superintendents of all the new work, accepting the heating and sewage system. We regret very much the long delay in starting the general work, circumstances which prevailed last year, was partly the cause of the delay, but as soon as the ban was lifted, we submitted the plans to four different parties for bids. Mr. Joseph De Goveia was the successful bidder and received the contract as our superintendent, and work was started Dec. 1st last. I wish to give Mr. Goveia credit for advancing his work to our entire satisfaction up to this time, considering some of the weather conditions. Mr. Bernard Gause was awarded the contract for the heating, which is put in under the direction of the Dunham system, also under the supervision of the Caldwell Engineering Co. Mr. S. C. Chumley was awarded the contract for constructing and putting in what is known as the Imhoff pattern sewage disposal system. I beg to state that special attention and time was devoted to the details in connection to this work, in the way of getting a good outlet, thru the courtesy of Mr. James M. Starr, who granted us gratis a clear title, "which you will find recorded" allowing us to construct the sewer thru his land with an outlet into the creek. We surely appreciated and feel indebted for the gentleman's kind act, and secondly to decide and adopt the best disposal system on the market.

We have two treasurers. The county treasurer, who has charge of all the money derived from taxes, the other is Mr. W. R. Turnbull who has charge of all money received outside the taxes, which I will report later.

Receipts from 1917 taxes net was $35,350.66 we should have gotten $513.71 more, but I regret to state that the railroads were sustained in the lower also by the supreme courts to refrain from paying the same altho we thought then and still think we were entitled and should have gotten this amount. Surely we could have made good use of the money at the present time.

Expenditures.
Our books are open for inspection at any time, and I know our worthy secretary is at your disposal to answer any questions, or give information pertaining to the sanatorium.

Nature's Remedy for Blood Troubles

The purifying and curative properties of Nature's great remedy have made S. S. S. for the Blood a household saying. Thousands today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood purifier. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, which possess cleansing and healing ingredients. You cannot be well when your blood is impure; you lack strength and energy natural with health; your complexion becomes pale and sallow; your vitality is weakened. When waste or refuse matter, which Nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system, it is absorbed into the blood and boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin appear.

S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character. All skin diseases and eruptions pass away, and the smooth clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. ## MRS. MARTIN'S LONG LIFE JOURNEY ENDS

Mother of Mrs. C. A. Barnes and Mrs. F. E. Farrell Died in St. Louis—Resident in That City More Than Sixty Years.

Death came at 11 o'clock Friday night to Mrs. Sarah Martin at her home in St. Louis. Mrs. Martin was known to many Jacksonville people because of her presence here on various occasions to visit her daughters, Mrs. Charles A. Barnes and Mrs. Felix E. Farrell. Altho Mrs. Martin was eighty-seven years of age, until very recently she had preserved a remarkable physical vigor. Her mental strength measured with the physical and so her's is indeed a remarkable record of longevity.

Before her marriage Mrs. Martin's name was Sarah Gray and she was born in Londonderry, Ireland, of Scottish parents, in 1832. She was carefully educated in a girls' school in the place of her birth. Following the death of her parents, as a young woman of eighteen years she came to the U. S. with her two older brothers.

It was in 1856 that she was married to James Martin in New York City and very soon afterward they became residents of St. Louis, where the family home has continued thru all the remaining years.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin were well known among the older citizens of St. Louis and it was their privilege to see the city grow almost from its village days. Mr. Martin died twenty years ago.

In the going of Mrs. Martin the first Presbyterian church loses its oldest member, for she had been identified with that organization for more than sixty years. During nearly all of that time she was a member of a Bible class and those who knew her intimately were aware that thru the years she was a close student of the Bible and had found that the Good Book contains all that is really useful in life. But her reading was not confined to the Bible, and even up to the time just a few days before her death Mrs. Martin constantly perused books, magazines and newspapers. The fact that she kept so thoroly in touch with present day events aided greatly in keeping her mind and spirit young. Ex-President Roosevelt had no greater admirer than she and for years she had kept thoroly informed about his works and writings. His sudden death meant for her real sorrow and the press notices after his death Mrs. Martin read with great interest.

The deceased was closely in touch, too, with wartime relief work and the past eighty-five years of age when the U. S. entered the war, her hands were busy much of the time in Red Cross knitting work. It was given to Mrs. Martin to pass far more than the usual number of years on earth and devotion to her church, her home and her country were the outstanding characteristics of her long and useful life. The memory of those years will live on, and so the influence of her life will be strengthened instead of lessened by her going.

Mrs. Martin is survived by four daughters and one son, Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Farrell of this city; Mrs. Hattie M. Ewell and Mrs. Louis Oatman of St. Louis; John H. Martin of Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Farrell, with other members of the family, were with Mrs. Martin when the final hour came.

The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

LETTER FROM COUNTY AGENT.

G. B. Kendall, County Agent has sent the following letter to members of the Morgan County Farmers Club:

Personal Services—As a member of this club you are entitled to my personal services and all that I can get for you in the way of personal service from the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the College of Agriculture. I want you to feel just as free to call on me as you do a lawyer, a doctor, or a veterinarian. The more you ask me for information along technical lines, for farm visits, or for technical services in other ways the better I like the job. Do not quit when you have asked for help once, but keep on coming. There is no limit.

Farm Visits—The roads have recently prevented me from continuing my plan of calling on every member on his own farm the first year of my work. However if you wish a farm visit for any reason call me up and I will come as far as I can by rail and will walk the rest of the way.

Farm Accounts—I will gladly assist any of you in making an inventory, and starting a farm account book in the right way. If you then get tangled up in keeping it, bring it in and we will untangle it. At the end of the year I will also assist you in closing up the accounts. By dating back, accounts may be started any time up to March 1st.

Seed—How are you off for seed corn? Seed oats? Want any Iowa 103? Do you want any Marquis spring wheat? Clover Seed? Alsike? Alfalfa? Sweet clover? Soybeans? If you want help in getting any of these, let me know before February first. Prices will quite likely advance on all of these at that time.

Wintering Horses—Economy in Wintering Idle Farm Horses may easily be overdone. Hundreds of horses in the corn belt are fed and cared for each winter so poorly as to leave them unfit for hard work when spring comes. Three things are necessary: sufficient exercise, proper shelter and the right amount of well selected feed. Exercise is necessary to good health. Probably the best place to provide this is a blue grass pasture, which has been allowed to grow up some- where during summer and fall, where not only exercises may be had but considerable good picking as well. Small lots and straw yards, unless used in connection with a larger area are not satisfactory because horses do not move about enough. While stacks, yards and protected wood lots may furnish sufficient shelter, it is usually more satisfactory to get up the horses in the evening and give them some feed and a dry bed in a barn. Give one feed a day of a legume hay such as clover, coarse alfalfa, sweet clover or soy bean or cow pea hay. It is good practice to feed these in the evening, allowing free access to the straw or other roughage during the day. In some years corn stalk fields furnish a considerable amount of fairly satisfactory food, but it is a mistake to assume that they will furnish adequate feed and shelter for an idle horse. Ear corn and oats are the standard grains for mature horses, oats being preferable especially for horses being carried largely on the coarse roughage such as straw, corn stover or sorghum hay. The feeding of moldy corn should be avoided since horses are especially susceptible to this source of poisoning even in the stalk field.

If some legume hay is used, little, if any, grain is needed except in the case of growing animals and breeding stock. The general condition of the horse as to flesh and general thrift must be the best guide to the feeder in selecting the ration. One or two bran mashes a week is good cheap health insurance for the horse. The mash may be made by mixing three to four pounds of dry bran with hot water and allowing it to fall to feeding temperature in a covered pail. Bran mashes help to prevent much sickness and death due to impaction of the digestive organs. A hand full of oil meal a day may take the place of the bran mashes and will help to keep the bowels regulated. These conditions are much cheaper than the condition powders and medicated stock foods so often use. 10 to 15 pounds of good silage fed in connection with legume hay or carbonaceous roughage will usually give fairly satisfactory results. The greatest care must be exercised in feeding silage to horses however, as any mold either in the silo or in the feed troughs is almost sure to cause trouble, and frequently death. Good clean drinking water should be supplied. A tank heater is essential in the winter time to keep the water trough free from ice. Salt should also be provided either thru free access or regular salting once a week or oftener. It is neither economical or wise to starve or neglect the work horse during the winter time. His ability to labor in the spring and summer depends largely upon his feed and care thru the winter months.

Feeding Hints for the Dairyman.—In making up a ration for a dairy herd, one should keep in mind: 1—Physical effect of the ration; 2—Bulkiness of the ration; 3—Palatability of the ration; 4—Reasonably good balance in the ration and, 5—Cost of the ration. The basis of economical milk production is a combination of corn silage and a good legume hay. When this combination of roughage is fed then the grain ration may be simple and composed largely of home grown grains that are suitable for dairy cattle are corn, oats and barley. These grains, however, are not rich in protein so it is usually advisable to purchase some high protein food such as cotton seed meal or oil meal. All grain should be finely ground.

The following method is a practical way of feeding dairy cows: Feed 30 to 40 lbs. of silage per day, which amounts to a couple of silage forks full twice a day, or a bushel basket full twice a day. Then give the cow all the legume hay she will clean up twice a day. This hay may be alfalfa, clover or cowpeas. A grain mixture of about 5 or 6 parts home grown grain to 1 part cotton seed meal or oil meal will give good results. Feed the grain according to milk flow. For Holsteins feed one pound of grain to 3 1/4 to 4 1/2 pounds of milk produced per day. This is about 2 pounds of grain for each gallon of milk produced. For Jerseys and Guernseys feed about 1 pound of grain to each 3 or 4 pounds of milk produced. A convenient way of feeding the grain is to use a long handled quart dipper. Weigh the quantity of feed which this dipper holds then simply measure the grain to the cow.

Very truly yours,
 GEORGE B. KENDALL,
 County Agent.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For Real Effectiveness, This Old Home-made Remedy Has No Equal. Easily and Cheaply Prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known as the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BEARS IN CONTROL

OF STOCK MARKET
NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Consideration of industrial conditions in today's stock market served as an excuse for the extension of bearish operations. Exports of further curtailment of output in important lines of industry and pessimistic statements of labor leaders gave momentum to the setback. Losses of 1 to 4 points in steels, equipments and coppers were traceable to more definite reports indicating further cessation of activity at sources of production.

Shipments, tobaccos and sugars were impaired 1 to 3 points and utilities fell back under lead of Consolidated Gas, which broke 3 points on announcement of its suspense in 80 cent gas case. Dealings in rails were nominal. The one conspicuously strong issue was Hide and Leather preferred which advanced three points in the face of general declines elsewhere. Sales amounted to 775-000 shares.

Steadfast was the one noteworthy feature of the moderate dealings in bonds, changes being of the most trivial character.

Sales aggregated $10,275,000.
Old U. S. Coupon and registered 2s lost 1/2 on bid.

WM. HORNZOLLERN

CHOPS TOO MUCH WOOD
Direct Cause of Recent Illness—
Dutch Officials Restrict Freedom of Movements.

Amersongen, Holland, Wednesday, Jan. 16.—(By The Associated Press.)—The immediate cause of William Hornzollern's repeated chills is, according to authoritative information overheating while performing his favorite exercise of sawing and chopping wood. The former emperor was accustomed to this work before the war, and when he was informed that his walks in the neighboring woods called for the services of too many guards in order to prevent his being pestered by various spectators, and perhaps also molestation of a more serious nature, William decided to resume his old pastime within the castle precincts.

Among the great piles of baggage brought across the frontier for his use was a case of tools weighing four hundred weight. This was unpacked and the emperor began work with his usual energy, occasionally increasing his labors in an effort to forget the worry connected with his abdication and the complete change in his position.

He was already suffering because of the damp climate, which affected his ear and throat, and was generally run down. The work caused him to perspire freely and while passing thru a corridor of the castle a strong draught struck him, causing the first serious chill which confined him to his bedroom for several days.

Suffered a Relapse

When he had partially recovered he again started in on the heavy manual work and suffered a relapse which meant a further period of confinement. Last week he showed improvement, and the weather was so warm that he was able to work in the castle grounds, which included the digging of an irrigation channel in the flower garden. The result was a renewed chill and a further sojourn in his apartment where he was ordered to remain for the present.

William Hornzollern's freedom of movement is not only restricted by the state of his health
but also by the Dutch authorities, who besides watching over his personal security, stepped in to prevent him from removing to Count Pucker's castle at Be-monts, near Wageningen, which they declared was unsuited.

The ex-emperor is becoming increasingly irritable under the unaccustomed restrictions and this feeling is augmented by the gradual departure of many of his old servants who find life in Holland under the circumstances unbearable. Dutch domestics, who are filling their places do not attain the same perfection of obeisance as the imperial servants who for years were accustomed to foresee the requirements of their sovereign.

It is probable that before many weeks the entire German personnel will have disappeared and the former monarch who never could do any simple thing for himself in the way of dressing will be cast on his own resources.

His recent ailments have had a marked effect on his physical and mental condition which is small wonder when such a man has had to surrender to an array of salves for the ear and nose, gargles for the throat, pills and other medicines. At various hours of the day he is compelled to take something or other of this kind and his wife, who acts as his nurse, is always in attendance to see that he executes his physician's orders.

Fran Hornzollern is now in fairly good health and goes out occasionally to tea.

Mrs. William Miller of S. Diamond street who has been ill with pneumonia following an attack of bronchitis and pleurisy is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Frank Devine and son Harry of Orleans neighborhood drove to Jacksonville yesterday in their Dodge car.

FINAL TAPS SOUNDED FOR DANA L. SWIFT

Waverly Boy Makes Supreme Sacrifice at Great Lakes Naval Station—Had Been Ill for Several Weeks.

Waverly, Jan. 17.—Final taps sounded for Dana L. Swift of this city at Great Lakes naval station Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Death came after an illness of several weeks during which he made a valiant fight against the dread disease pneumonia with which he was stricken in the early part of December.

The young man was called to the colors November 11, 1918 and four weeks afterward was stricken with influenza which developed into pneumonia. His condition was regarded as critical from the first and his parents were summoned to his bedside.

A few days after their arrival and died at the station. The young man seemed to rally for a time but his improvement was not permanent and despite his splendid constitution he grew gradually weaker until the end came as indicated.

Dana L. Swift was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Swift and was born in Waverly 21 years ago. He attended the public schools of the city, graduating from the high school in the class of 1915. When he received the call to the colors he was a student at the university of Illinois.

During his student days he won fame as an athlete. He was a member of the football and basketball teams of the high school and was one of the most popular young men in the city. His death will bring sadness to the entire community.

He is survived by his father and one sister, Lucille and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty and grandmother Mrs. Anna Swift.

The remains will arrive on the C. & St. L. this morning from Great Lakes. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

LIEUT. COL. CAPPS WRITES FROM GREECE

Head of Red Cross Commission in Greece Writes of Work Now Being Accomplished—Aid in Feeding and Clothing Greek Refugees.

Mrs. Edward Capps, wife of Lieut. Col. Capps who is at the head of the Red Cross commission in Greece, is spending the winter months in Jacksonville. Mrs. Capps has received a number of letters giving some insight into the work of the commission. The Journal is permitted to publish the following paragraphs from these informing letters:

Ossilas, Macedonia, Greece, Nov. 25, 1918.

This is a little village on the frontier between Greece and Bulgaria where the British run a bakery for their army. I stopped over to arrange for 500 loaves a day to supply our Bulgarian branch of the Red Cross, which we are just starting. The Greek refugees are coming back, about 150 a day, through here and we are feeding and clothing them at three points, Xanthi, Feridjlik, and Stera-Zagora, in Bulgaria. We are having all sorts of difficulties with the Bulgarian authorities and it has taken me almost a week at Xanthi to straighten them out.

I ought to be in Athens this minute, for the second party has arrived and must be put to work. So Black (Major Carl E.) and Hill (Director of the American School in Athens) are coming to take my place and I am hurrying back. If I can arrange it I hope to go from Salonica to Athens by aeroplane—in two hours instead of twenty-eight.

I wish I could write you at length about conditions here and the sort of work we are doing. Will do so as soon as I get back to a stenographer. Life is rough and hard and strange, but I have been living on British army rations, requisitioned for our workers, and am feeling better than at any time since leaving New York, just two months ago today.

Personnel of aPrty.

The work up here is going to be the biggest part of our job. There are still 30 to 40 thousand refugees, (rather Greeks who were deported from their homes, German fashions, when the Bulgars came into this country) and they are still being beaten, starved and generally maltreated. Today I secured the release of 20 Greeks returning to their homes, whom the Bulgars simply clapped into jail, without any reason at all, and kept them a day and a half without food or water. Our party has consisted of Barnes (Major Clifford Barnes) and myself now relieved by Black and Hill. Mrs. Adosides, the wife of the Governor-General of Eastern Macedonia (a wonderful woman, a trained nurse and a great little fighting patriot), two Greek soldiers, Lieut. Zannos of the G. K. army as aide to Mrs. A. and two Greek Boy Scouts. Black and Mrs. A. and Lieut. Zannos go on to Feridjlik to establish a station there and then to Stera-Zagora for the same purpose.

I have wired Athens for about a dozen persons to be charged with these stations, but we ought to have 50. Our supplies have not yet begun to arrive in Athens and we are using stuff borrowed in Salonica and from the Greek Red Cross to keep things going. We have as yet no cars or trucks and have to travel from the English. I even borrowed a car from the Bulgarian commandant at Xanthi to get here.

Mission is United and Loyal.

So far as I can see our mission is going to be united and loyal. But there will always be some trouble and already some of the men have been restless and have been restless. Probably it is because they have nothing to do. It is most demoralizing to hang around the hotels of Athens and have no absorbing occupation. But until our trucks come what is a chauffeur to do? And what the supplies come what will the nurses and relief workers do? I am trying to make jobs for them all. Dewing and two others are in Mitylene (where there were 60,000 cases of typhus fever) five of us are up here and more are coming. And as soon as I get back to Athens I mean to discover who are discontented and send them out of their cozy hotels into such a God-forsaken, dirty, wild country as this. That ought to cure them!

Salonica, Dec. 2.

I have just returned in my car (the one lent by Governor Adosides, at whose house I am staying) from the Greek Aviation Field where I had arranged to get a ride to Athens today. But there are clouds on Mount Olympus and signs of snow, so that the pilot preferred not to make the trip today. Since there is no train today I shall try again tomorrow for flying trip to Athens. They have to fly 10,000 to 12,000 feet high to clear the mountains and prefer to have good weather. It will be horribly cold too, but I am looking forward eagerly to the experience. Besides, I must be in Athens at the first possible moment.

Some of the Work Done. We have had great success here. Last week we gave out 12,500 rations to these people at our two stations. Again, we have put on weekly rations 2,000 people, who are little farms on the slopes of Mt. Pangion now ruined by the Bulgars. They were wiped up by ox-teams, and there are 3,000 more there whom we should feed. They have absolutely nothing and will certainly die if we don't feed them thru the winter. We give clothing, too, but the big thing is food. Now, we only supplies we have of food we borrowed from the Serbian commission here 3 weeks ago, and they will not last more than 3 weeks. Our own supplies, for some strange reason, have not begun to come and we have no word from Washington or elsewhere about them. So when I came here I saw what dismay the collapse of all our work in Macedonia unless we could buy or steal some staple foods. The only source of which I could think was the British army which has promised us 100 tons of flour and good amounts of other things in case we should need them. The British were bulky! So our work is saved for at least a month longer. Another question was the transport. After one trip the ox-teams deserted. We sent the police after them but have not found them. Last week, therefore, we could not give rations to the mountain people, so I went to the Greek army and demanded mule carts for this work which they gave to us, and hereafter those poor devils will have their food.

The American Red Cross has a wonderful standing over here, and I, with my rank as colonel receive every attention and courtesy. You would be amused to see me shooting through the narrow streets of Salonica, behind my American flag, receiving salutes from Greek and English soldiers and officers all the way. Curiously, the French and Italians don't salute. It is strange to be receiving military honors in this fashion!

As an introduction to our new "Salt Water Soft Chewing Taffies" we are offering as a Saturday special a variety of assorted flavors—vanilla, strawberry, chocolate, molasses and marshmallow nut—at only 25c pound. MERRIGAN'S.

EVERETT REYNOLDS

AT HOME
Everett Reynolds, son of R. C. Reynolds, southeast of the city, has returned home looking fine and stalwart though he is suffering from a cold which he says he contracted after arriving in the United States. He was with the 139th Regiment, 38th Division, "Cyclone." He entered the service July 12th last. He went first to Kansas City to the motor school, later to Camp Shelby, Mississippi and then to New York. He sailed Oct. 6th landing at Liverpool where he was in camp four days and then went to Southampton on where he took ship for Cherbourg, France, and then rode three days in a train to the artillery camp at Mecon where he was occupied in cutting lumber. He says his command had to use allied guns of the six inch caliber. His command was treated very well and he looks as if he had fared finely and he comes home in good shape.
